Texans deserve access to fair loans

December 2024

TO PROMOTE A HEALTHY TEXAS ECONOMY, ESTABLISH FAIR MARKET STANDARDS FOR CONSUMER LOANS

OVED

Texans need access to short-term loans up to $2,500 with interest rates that do not exceed 36% APR, even when they have lower credit scores or no credit history. The regulated financial institutions and other lenders listed here offer Texans loans on these terms across the state.

Payday loans, which average 500% APR, and auto title loans, which average 200% APR, are designed to trap Texans in debt. These exorbitantly priced loans are detrimental to families and undermine the work and investments of faith-based and charitable organizations across the state to support family financial stability.

This list demonstrates that the usurious practices of payday and auto title lenders are unnecessary for Texans to have access to credit. Establishing fair market standards for these loans will not harm consumers. It will do the opposite. It will help Texas families thrive.
